Supply List

- 1 ream (500 sheets) of 9"x12" cheap drawing paper; I use 60# white sulphite drawing paper from Blick, but heavy copy paper will work in a pinch.
- Acrylic paints in as many colors as you have, a combination of professional quality and student grade paints, not craft paints. Get plenty of opaque white; I use Blick Matte Acrylics white. Include several versions each of your main colors such as red, green, yellow, and blue.
- Palette: I use pad-of-paper style disposable palettes
- 9"x12" Bristol, cut into quarters (6"x4.5"), or 60 small (under 6"X6") sheets of heavy smooth paper.
- Brushes: I use flat brushes in a few different widths. Half a dozen or so should suffice.
- Palette knife for mixing colors
- Scissors
- Acrylic matte medium or matte soft gel for collage
- 2 L-shaped pieces of mat board
- Drawing materials including fine pens: Posca Pens, gel pens, and micron pens are all good choices.
